FAQs

- Q: Who are the adult pen pals?
A: Our mentors are adults from all walks of life – corporate executives, stay at home moms, retirees and college students – who want to be involved in the life of a student. Every one undergoes a background check. And, teachers review all pen pal letters before they are sent to the student.
- Q: What if I don't have regular access to computers?
A: You can complete all lessons without a computer except for when students choose books and actually type and send their letters.
- Q: What if I don't have time for another program?
A: In2Books is not an add on – it's a way to make your students' reading and writing deeper and more effective – because they'll actually WANT to do it, and do it well.

Complements All Curricula!

In2Books has been used successfully both in classrooms with basal curricula and in less structured learning environments.

How it Works:

- Students are matched with carefully-screened adult pen pals through our secure online system. Students and pen pals exchange "Getting to Know You" letters to build understanding and trust.
- Students become "informed readers" by studying five genres: Realistic Fiction, Social Studies, Biography, Traditional Tales and Science.
- Students choose one book from each of the five genre studies to read over the course of the year.
- Students and adult pen pals exchange online letters about important issues in the books.
- Teachers reinforce the learning with tested online resources for teaching genre, comprehension, and writing skills. It's easily adaptable to augment or reinforce existing required curricula.
